Medical and Family History Questionnaire

IMPORTANT: You were referred to Genetics and are on our wait list for an appointment. This questionnaire provides us with information about you and your family that is important for our assessment. Please complete this form as soon as possible to prevent any delays to your assessment.

If you or a relative has been seen for genetic counselling at our clinic or another genetics clinic, please include their name and date of birth (if known) here:

_____

Please return your form as soon as possible. Options for returning your form:

1. Email to medical.genetics@kingstonhsc.ca
2. Fax to 613-548-1348
3. Mail to the Division of Medical Genetics (address above)

A fillable PDF version of this form can be found on our website at https://kingstonhsc.ca/medical-genetics/forms-and-links and can be emailed to the email address above.

Name of Patient: _____

Sex Assigned at Birth (IE: Male/Female/Other): _____

Gender Identity (IE: Male/Female/Non-Binary/Other): _____

Preferred Pronouns (IE: He/She/They/Other): _____

Patient's Date of Birth: _____/_____/_____(dd/mm/yyyy)

Person completing form: □ Patient □ Parent □ Other (specify relationship) _____

Tips for Completion:

1. Please reach out to your relatives for details. If you don't have specifics, please fill out as much as you can.

2. Include all biologically related family members, including those that are healthy. It is important for us to know the size of your family as part of the assessment.

3. If you have half-siblings, please note the parent that is shared with you/the patient.

4. For our purposes, the terms "Mother/Maternal" and "Father/Paternal" refers to the persons who contributed the egg and sperm to the pregnancy of the patient. We recognize that those individuals may not in fact be the "Mother" and "Father" of the patient as they define their parents. If you do not know this information, that is fine, please indicate that on this form.

5. If you don't know exact ages, please estimate (IE:. diagnosed in their 50s).

6. If you have too many relatives to fit in the space provided, please write any additional family history on a blank sheet of paper and include it when you return this form.

7. Any information shared with us is covered under the Personal Health Information Privacy Act (PHIPA) and will remain confidential, unless mandated otherwise by the Act or other Acts.

Patient Consent for Electronic Communications
Risk & Benefit Disclaimer

- All agents of the hospital may use the information you provide to communicate with you as outlined in this consent form. Please make sure your email account is private and your health care provider may send sensitive information to the address you've provided.
- Electronic communications may not be encrypted outside of the hospital email system, and security and privacy can never be completely guaranteed.
- Communications can be forwarded, intercepted, stored or even changed without the knowledge or permission of the health care provider or patient. Communications may be misdirected, resulting in it being sent to many unintended or unknown recipients.
- Even when communications are deleted, back-up copies may exist indefinitely. Electronic communication is a more permanent form of communication compared to verbal communication, either in person or by phone.
- Electronic communications are easier to falsify than handwritten or signed hardcopies. In addition, it is impossible to verify the true identity of the sender, or to ensure that only the recipient can read the communication once it has been sent.
- Be aware that communications can introduce viruses into a computer system. Your care provider may choose not to open a communication if the sender is not recognized or may choose not to receive a communication if it looks like it may have a virus attached to it.
- Electronic communications can be delayed for technical reasons beyond the control of your care provider. There may also be a delay between when your care provider receives your email and when they are able to respond. For these reasons, do not use electronic communications to communicate emergency or urgent health matters. Call 911 or attend to local emergency department in those circumstances. Electronic communications must not be used as a substitute for regular clinical examination.
- Always consider the sensitivity of the content and inherent risks before sending. Please tell your care provider if there are certain types of information you do not wish to discuss by electronic communication.
- You understand that KHSC and on-line services (e.g. Gmail) have a legal right to inspect and keep communications that pass through their system.
- Your care provider may make decisions about your treatment based on information you provide by electronic communications. In this case, your communications will become part of your patient record and as such may be used as evidence in court.
- At any time, you or your care provider can decide that you no longer wish to use electronic communications. If you decide to stop communicating electronically, you must inform your care provider in writing or at your next appointment. You will be asked to sign a "Revoking Consent for Electronic Communications" form which will cancel your consent to use electronic communications with your care provider.
- If your care provider cannot continue to use electronic communications with you, they will inform you in writing and/or notify you about this at the time of your next appointment.
- It is your responsibility to follow-up to determine whether the intended recipient received the email/text message and that the recipient has responded.
- It is your responsibility to ensure the hospital retains the correct email address/phone number.
- For questions about email/text message communications, please speak to your care provider.
